

Rapid Response Home Visiting

Parenting & Child Development Learning Path

Throughout the Parenting Learning Path, family service professionals will learn information and strategies, and hear about other's professional experiences promoting parent-child attachment and the social-emotional well-being of children within a virtual service environment .

The following graphic depicts the self-directed Parenting & Child Development Learning Path. The path takes up to 8 hours to complete and learners self-select one or two modules/webinars at each level. When selecting modules, please refer to the inventory of the module/webinar learning descriptions on the back of this sheet.

To further your learning: Rapid Response Resources

Virtual Vitality Resources: These resources are practices and principles that provide focusing, grounding, and calming practices. These practices are invitations to participate. Always listen to your body and mind and do what makes you comfortable.

Module & Webinar Descriptions

1a. Webinar: Attachment and Executive Functioning in Virtual Home Visits

This webinar explores the essential skills that support executive functioning, paying particular attention to the connection between attachment and executive functioning and how to support and scaffold these skills in caregivers, particularly during virtual visits.

1b. Webinar: Attachment and Observation in Virtual Home Visiting

This webinar reviews why attachment matters, common attachment behaviors at different ages, and attachment functions. It explores how to notice attachment behaviors such as gaze, affect, proximity, and touch within a virtual and phone-only visit. Ideas and activities provide professionals with ways to strengthen parenting interactions.

2a. Module: Virtual Home Visiting 104 Facilitating Parent-Child Connections

This module explores how to observe the child, the parent, and the environment through interactive video calls and telephone to support parent-child connections. The module will also discuss strategies for strengthening and sustaining parents' interactions with their children.

2b. Webinar: Observing and Understanding Development During Home Visits

This webinar focuses on family support professionals' observations and considers the differences between expected developmental disorganization and concerns. Learners will gather strategies to engage families in conversations about their child's progress throughout the developmental process.

3a. Webinar: Navigating Separation Anxiety

This webinar focuses on the ways families navigate separation anxiety in young children. Learners gather strategies to use when families have questions and seek new ideas.

3b. Webinar: Responding to Developmental Disorganization

This webinar describes how regression differs from a developmental delay and what may be typical regressions in times of stress. Listeners will gain ways to use developmental regressions as an opportunity to join with families during these moments of vulnerability and build on their resilience.

4a. Module: Virtual Home Visiting 105 Screening and Assessment

This module describes the unique challenges, opportunities, and strategies for completing child and adult screenings through virtual visits. It covers the Family Support Professional's role in preparing the parent, administering the screening, sharing results, and following up.

4b. Webinar: Taking Care of You

This webinar offers an opportunity to learn about self-care. The focus is on mental health by considering professional needs in self-care and mindfulness.
